COMMITMENT TO

Men Drinking Beer at a Table

Mrs. Kate Measor must serve 100 days in the county jail. On Dec. 10 she pleaded guilty to a charge of keeping a place where liquors are sold, and Justice Smithwick sentenced her to pay a fine of $100 and to serve 100 days in the county jail. The fine was paid, but the commitment to jail was withheld with the declaration of the judge that it would be withheld as long as the woman kept her promise to sell no more liquor. Saturday night, Constable Sid Smithwick walked into Mrs. Measor's house at Delhi and found a number of men sitting at her table drinking beer. When this was reported to Justice Smithwick, the commitment was turned over to an officer for execution.

Mrs. Measor owns a ranch near the Delhi school house. She was arrested in December the accusation being made that she was selling liquor free of charge. Two complaints charging infraction of the county prohibition ordinance were sworn to. Mrs. Measor prepared to stand trial, but on the day set for trial she entered a plea of guilty.

The justice told her that he would not issue the commitment unless he

Chicago Church Paper Charges
Corruption in Lorimer
Senatorial Election

CHICAGO, May 2.—Charles A. White, member of the lower house of the Illinois legislature, conferred with District Attorney Wayman today, preparatory to testifying before the grand jury regarding the alleged bribery in the election of William Lorimer to the United States Senate.

According to the story of a local church paper, White received a large sum for his vote for Lorimer. It is rumored Wayman intends to make a probe that may have far-reaching effect.

The proposed investigation is the center of political interest here today, and it is believed it will have much political significance in the coming congressional campaign.

The Orange County Highway Commissioners are to hold a meeting this week in consultation with their engineer, Daniel S. Halladay of Los Angeles, son of M. D. Halladay of Santa Ana. Halladay was appointed engineer for the commission last week, and R. T. Harris was chosen secretary.

REGISTRATION FIGURES SHOW REPUBLICANS FAR IN LEAD ON THE BOOKS

With four months only of the year gone, about two-thirds of the voters of the county have registered.

County Clerk Williams and Deputy Williamson, who has charge of the registration books, have made footings by precincts showing the statistics of the registration by parties, and this is the showing:

Republicans, 3662; Democrats, 1030; Prohibitionists, 163; Socialists, 98; Independent, 8; decline to state, 226.

Most of the precincts of the county have been registering quite heavily. The report shows but a very light registration at San Juan Capistrano. The reason for that is that the books have not yet been returned to the clerk's office. The registration there is largely Republican.

The total as it stands now is overwhelmingly Republican. Democrats say that there has as yet been no effort on their part to get their voters registered, and that in part is responsible for the proportion.

A comparison of the total registration with the votes cast for the presidential nominees in 1908 shows that the Republican registration is within 200 of the Taft vote. The Democrats are short 871; the Socialists 277 and the Prohibitionists 388.

The 1908 vote in Orange county stood: Taft 3244; Bryan, 1911; Debs, 375; Chafin, 451.

SUPPORT OF TAFT IS FLATLY DENIED

Report That Roosevelt Had Sent Word of Such Action
Not Confirmed

COPENHAGEN, May 2.—"You may deny the story as strongly as you wish," was Col. Roosevelt's statement on his arrival here, when told of the Washington Post story alleging that he had written to Washington outlining his future political position. He declared the report was absolutely untrue.

Roosevelt was met here by the crown prince and escorted to the palace. Thousands of cheering citizens lined the streets. The reception was unusually hearty.

Story Denied Here

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Several men in position to speak authoritatively declared positively that there was no truth in the report that a communication had been received at the White House from Roosevelt declaring he will endorse the administration. They say there has been no communication from the Colonel since he left Africa.

Morning papers throughout the country published a report that Senator Root and Wm. Loeb, Roosevelt's former secretary, had both received letters stating that the Colonel will support the administration. Both declined to discuss the statement. Because of the absence of President Taft, no official statement concerning the reported communication could be obtained at the White House.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 2.—Edward Payson Weston, the equestrian, departed at 7:20 o'clock this morning for New York, eighteen miles distant. He expected to arrive late this afternoon. He declared himself in better condition than at any time since he started on his long Los Angeles to New York tramp.

As he walked Weston talked to the correspondents. He said: "I'm glad I got away from California. If I had a house in San Francisco I would rent it and live elsewhere. Los Angeles is no better. There are lots of unprincipled people there."

Weston is twelve days ahead of his schedule.

It was his second attempt to cross the continent in a hundred days within two years, the first failing because of ill health.

Weston announced that he is planning a series of lectures on pedestrianism and right living, and may tour the country in the near future. He stated that he has taken his last transcontinental walk, although he will stroll ten or twelve miles daily to keep himself in good condition.

LONDON, May 2.—Advices from China today, both to the foreign office and to mission headquarters here, say the condition there growing out of the Changsha riots, is grave.

Local conditions, including the failure of the rice crop, unemployment of many, and financial depression, have added to the aggravation.

Rev. Brown believes the various nations must look to the protection of their subjects immediately.

The pronouncing of judgment upon S. H. Overacker for the murder of G. A. Winn on Jan. 13, was postponed this morning to 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. Judgment is to follow the verdict of the jury finding Overacker guilty of murder in the first degree, and fixing the penalty at life imprisonment.

This morning was the time set for judgment, but Attorneys Thomas & Langley and Montgomery & Tarver asked for a stay of judgment that they might further examine the records in the case to be better prepared for a motion for a new trial, which was filed in court this morning. Under the law the motion for a new trial must be disposed of before judgment is finally pronounced.

The dog killed today has been kept tied up ever since he was bitten.

There was considerable excitement on West Fifth street yesterday evening. A dog began whirling around, and running aimlessly. He disappeared toward the west.

NATIONAL CONSERVATION ASSOCIATION GETS BUSY

Pinchot is President of Organization That Begins Campaign For 100,000 Members

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Plans are under way to carry the Conservation campaign into every state. With Gifford Pinchot as its president, the National Conservation Association, which has its headquarters in the Colorado Building here, has begun a vigorous campaign to extend its membership into every part of the country. The association already has members in every state and territory, but the campaign just started is intended to bring the enrollment up to 100,000 members.

Mr. Pinchot feels that it is a critical time for the Conservation movement, and he has asked for the help of every patriotic citizen. His appeal, sent through the country, is bringing notable results, and those in charge here declare that the Association will soon be a great force in national public affairs.

The National Conservation Association is made up of an individual membership—men and women—who believe in the principles the conservation movement represents. The membership fee is two dollars. The principles on which the Association is founded are those declared by the governors at their now historic conference with President Roosevelt, at the White House in 1908. The declaration adopted by the governors at that meeting was very general in character, but it laid down principles which could not possibly be misunderstood. These principles have been taken by the National Conservation Association and have been made concrete, specific and practical.

The Association is already doing practical work. Hon. James R. Garfield, former Secretary of the Interior, one of its leading members, has appeared before the Senate committee on public lands, favoring a bill to authorize the President of the United States to withdraw lands chiefly valuable for coal, water power, mineral phosphates, etc., so that such lands may be disposed of in the interest of all the people, instead of a few; and the committee has made a favorable report carrying out the suggestions of the Association, as outlined by Mr. Garfield. Mr. Pinchot, president of the Association, has sent out a bulletin to all the members of the Association calling on them to write their congressmen, urging the immediate passage of this bill.

At the beginning, the Conservation movement was criticized by its enemies for being too theoretical and academic. As the movement advanced, the principles which the governors declared received wider and wider endorsement, until they had, with the exception of the open enemies of Conservation, practically the unanimous endorsement of the country. But those who were active in the Conservation movement felt that too general approval, without specific, practical application to those principles, was even dangerous to success, and that what was needed to insure the practical application of Conservation principles was a National Conservation Association.

The National Conservation Commission, which, on recommendation of the governors, President Roosevelt had created, was killed by the amendment which Representative Tawney of Minnesota, succeeded in attaching to the sundry civil bill of 1909. The work the commission had been carrying on was taken up independently by the joint committee on Conservation, an unofficial body supported by private funds, and carried on with marked success. There are now forty-two state Conservation commissions and fifty-one Conservation organizations of national organizations. The joint committee accomplished notable results acting as a clearing house for these commissions and committees. But friends of Conservation felt that there should be some national organization through which the individual citizen could join in the movement.

So last July, men who had taken the lead in the Conservation movement in the different parts of the country, met with Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, and organized the National Conservation Association. Dr. Eliot was made president. Under his leadership, the Association at once met with a hearty response. Its first bulletin called the attention of its members and the public to the situation with regard to the coal lands of Alaska, which have since achieved such prominence through the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy. In that bulletin, which was issued back in November, Dr. Eliot, speaking for the Association, said:

"The National Conservation Association is convinced of the urgent need of immediate measures to prevent the control of the great sources of heat and mechanical power in the United States from being seized by monopolistic organizations, and to secure the best development of these sources in the interest of the whole people."

The Alaska coal situation had not then assumed the prominence and notoriety that it has since achieved. The Association appealed to the people to "bring the urgent needs of their situation to the attention of their representatives in Congress."

When Gifford Pinchot was dismissed as United States Forester by President Taft, Dr. Eliot immediately called his executive committee together, presented his resignation, and nominated Mr. Pinchot as his successor, saying Mr. Pinchot was the recognized head of the Conservation movement, and that as, by President

Taft's action, he had been relieved of his official connection with the government, it was eminently fitting that he should take the actual leadership of the National Conservation Association. The committee elected Mr. Pinchot president, and conferred on Dr. Eliot the honorary presidency, which he still retains.

The National Conservation Association is a fighting force for Conservation. The other Conservation bodies have been, more or less, of an investigation character. The Association studies conditions and situations closely, and after it has studied them and decided what ought to be done, it goes about doing. The other Conservation organizations were tied up by official connections.

The National Conservation Association takes the ground that the individual citizen ought to have a good deal to say about what should be done with the country's natural resources. Those resources belong to the people, it holds, and, therefore, the people ought to have a voice as to how these resources are disposed of. The Conservation Association proposes to give the people a voice. To that end, its founders organized it as a popular body through which the individual citizen might give utterance to his Conservation sentiment.

A great many Conservation bills are proposed. Some of them are good; many of them are bad. The Conservation Association, through its law officer, Phillip P. Wells, gives close study to the various bills and advises its members of the provisions and meanings of those that should be passed and of those that should be killed. There are a great many Conservation measures, of course, good and bad, that never stand a chance of passing. The Association watches these carefully, but it does not bother its members about them until time for action has come and action is needed one way or the other, then it acts.

When the nine so-called "Administration Conservation bills," prepared by Secretary Ballinger, were, at his request, introduced by Senator Nelson, the Association immediately took up a careful study of them and advised its members of their provisions. It was absolutely frank in its statement, saying:

"Two of the bills are good, and, when certain necessary amendments are made, they should have the hearty support of every member of this Association. Two are good and bad in about equal proportion. One is predominantly bad. The three remaining bills are thoroughly unfortunate and should be rewritten entirely."

The membership of the National Conservation Association extends to every state. In Wisconsin, a strong state committee, under the leadership of William M. Bray, a member of the legislature, is conducting an active campaign. In Chicago, a committee of the Association has been formed under the presidency of Alfred L. Baker, and has already raised a large fund for Conservation work. Plans are under consideration for organized work in St. Louis and a number of other large cities of the country.

The men associated with Mr. Pinchot in the active daily direction of the affairs of the Association, are men who have been connected with the Conservation movement, even before its formal inception at the White

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle wrapper, what his medicines are made of and what he thinks of them. This he feels he can afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftentimes, with a debilitating, pelvic catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nerve and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities to Doctor Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

Power, Comfort and Elegance are Desirable. All these you get in the Overland

In addition, moderate cost combined with efficiency and speed, but the crowning points of the Overland are SIMPLICITY AND CERTAINTY.

Consider its SIMPLICITY of control—literally as easy as walking. You put one foot forward to go ahead, to the rear for reverse. The high speed only requires a push forward with the other foot on another pedal. That is all there is to it. Either pedal disengages the other. It is impossible to get in two speeds at once, or to inadvertently get into reverse. Even if a mistake is made and the car is started on "high," it can do no harm. This is a CERTAINTY.

Three Overland models are exclusive pedal control. Two models of the 40 h. p. Overlands have selective sliding gear and are practically as simple. The clutch is so perfectly balanced that it can be disengaged by a push of one finger, and yet can never slip.

Overland 25 h. p. Roadster $1100; Overland 25 h. p. Detachable tonneau $1200; Overland 40 h. p. Roadster $1450; Overland 40 h. p. 5-passenger touring car $1650—the peer of them all.

MATTERS OF INTEREST TO SCHOOL MEN AND WOMEN

The Department of Public Instruction of California, at Sacramento, has issued the following to California men and women, and others interested in education.

The following rulings, opinions, counsels and comments, which are of more or less general interest, are taken from letters and bulletins issued recently by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, in response to the many demands for information of this kind that center in this office.

ENCOURAGE PUPILS

TO STAND ALONE

The boy or girl who dares to stand alone, who dares to disagree with the crowd, and who can stand right up for the unpopular side is well worth the intelligent attention of the teacher.

True, this child is troublesome and disagreeable, perhaps. Often he is mistaken and unwise and bull-headed and on the wrong side.

One is tempted by night and by day to sit down on him hard. The other children are so much pleasanter to deal with, they are so much more docile, they accept the teacher's good rules so easily, and agree so nicely with what one knows is right.

But a great people must have Leaders as well as Followers; and the pigheaded one who stands up for what he believes against the whole crowd makes a safer Leader than any of the docile ones who accept every dictum as gospel and question it not.

Be wise, oh, teacher. Don't try to root out an independent spirit, mistaking it for a hateful weed. Watch for it as a rare flower, appreciate it and train it to wholesome growth.

CORRECT SCHOOL

ROOM LIGHTING

These windows should be separated by the narrowest casings possible; they should extend up as close to the ceiling as possible; and they must equal in glass area at least one fifth of the floor space.

In front there should not be any opening whatever to admit light, neither window nor door nor transom—hardly even a keyhole.

The windows should all have blinds for regulating the light. Venetian blinds are best, for they admit light without letting the direct rays strike the eyes. Ordinary blinds may be arranged in two parts, so that the lower sash may be shaded, while the upper is open to the light.

The reason for wise care in managing the light of schoolrooms is that the children must always sit in one place and are not free to move so as to adapt themselves to changing conditions of light.

It is a horrible thing for school trustees or teacher to ruin the sight of a helpless child for life. Yet it has been estimated that a bushel of eyes are damaged every year by the defective lighting of schoolrooms.

CHANGING OF TEACHERS A WASTE OF ENERGY

Frequent changes in teachers and superintendents cause much loss of educational energy in California. No one can do his best work in a single term. The experience that a teacher builds up at the expense of the people is very valuable to the people, and should not be thrown lightly aside.

The acquaintance with the different children and people, the knowledge of their peculiarities, the familiarity with the regular routine of work, are all of cash value to the schools; but it is all lost with every change.

Sometimes these changes are the fault of the employers, sometimes of the employees. In either event usually nothing is gained—the new position is about the same as the old, and the new employee has about the same ability as his predecessor. So it goes on, world without end.

The moral is for trustees and people to keep their school employees many years unless they are very bad indeed; and for teachers to stay a long time in one school, long enough to see the results of their work and to be really a part of the community. Rome is not built in a day.

EDWARD HYATT,
Supt. Public Instruction.

Or when you strain the back. Many complications follow. Urinary disorders, diabetes, Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure backache. Cure every form of kidney ills.

F. L. Sexton, 1129 West Second street, Santa Ana, Cal., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and can say that I am very favorably impressed with them. Off and on I was troubled by a dull pain in the small of my back and I was of the opinion that the annoyance was caused by weak kidneys. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended and was led to try them. Relief soon followed their use and

ASK LICENSE FOR SALOON

Two Bar and Two Table Permits Up to Newport Beach Trustees

Newport News: At the meeting of the city trustees Monday two applications were read for wholesale and retail license for the sale of liquor. One was by C. A. S. Higley and John Yribarna the proposed location being the corner opposite the bank on the ocean front. The other was by Pulseguir & Rossi in the room now occupied by their meat market in the Peabody block. An application was made for a table license for the Hotel Balboa by Gilbert J. and Carrie J. Seelstad and the same parties also applied for a license for the Park restaurant at Balboa. Under the ordinance these applications have to lay over a week before they can be acted on by the board and no action was possible at Monday night's meeting. It is expected that vigorous protest will be made to the board against granting any license when the applications come up for final action.

The city attorney was instructed to draw up the necessary papers for the annexation of a portion of Newport bay to the city. Balboa island will be included in the territory to be annexed as the owners of that island expressed their desire to have the island annexed through Street Superintendent Hermes.

THE UNSPEAKABLE TURK

Again the "unspeakable Turk" is at his old trade of butchering women and children. The details are too revolting to discuss before a civilized people. The great question is again before the enlightened countries, shall this butchering continue as of old or shall Christian nations put a stop to it? It will never stop until it is stopped in this manner. The Turk will never volunteer to retire from his ancient trade of murdering women and children. It has been his principal occupation since he came into control of the Eastern Empire. It is his favorite diversion and he is never so happy as when the game is in full swing.

The governments of Europe have looked on with almost indifference through all these years in which the Turk has rioted in the blood of the innocent and defenseless, and in this way the nations have become "silent partners." Sometimes when they have thought there was anything to gain by a mild protest, they have made a show of interest. But the "interest" has for the most part been interest on loans, or if not that, a thoroughly selfish one in any event. "Property rights" have prevailed over "human rights," and money or political advantage have been the compensations which "Christian" nations have received for the privilege granted to the brutal Turk to slaughter the innocent.

But the day of judgment is coming—is bound to come—when Turk and Christian alike shall be brought to an accounting, and the only way in which we can escape the penalty for shedding innocent blood, will be to do our part in putting a stop to it.

At the final reception in Paris to Roosevelt, it is said no toasts were given, presumably for the reason that the list of subjects had given out, or the remarkable volubility of the French had been fully exhausted. In fact, it is reported that all along the route the Colonel has traveled he has left a trail of nervous exhaustion, sore throats and oratorical wreckage. His tour from the time he left these shores until he lands here again will be known by the natives of the various countries he has traversed as "the strenuous pilgrimage," because everybody, including the lions of Africa, were kept on the jump and whoop from start to finish.

Now then, here is something else for the wise ones to explain. A dry lake on the Tonopah and Tidewater railroad is filling up with water with no apparent cause, and the lake threatens to compel the removal of the tracks. Simultaneously, over in Nevada, on the smooth plains of what is known as "Jake's Valley," crevices have opened which have filled rapidly with water and many cattle have perished as a result. These crevices are from two to six feet wide, 20 feet in depth and of great length. There seems to be things going on under the earth as well as on the earth and above the earth that are hard to explain.

A gentleman who sports the name of Michael Halley and claims to be a lineal descendent of Edmund Halley, the astronomer, has been interfered with to some extent by the police. In fact, the police have rendered themselves quite obnoxious to him and for this reason he is hoping that his ancestor's comet will smash the earth to smithereens. He has nothing particular against the other inhabitants of earth, but would be willing to sacrifice them all, including himself, just to get even with the police. Some people are "mighty sot in their ways."

Now that Jim Patten faces a crisis, there will be few to sympathize with him in case his ill-gotten gains take to themselves wings and fly away. He and his gang have fattened at the expense of the public by gambling, in and booming the prices of the necessities of life, and now that they probably stand to lose it is to be hoped they will be eliminated for good. Here is also hoping that every gambler in the products of this country may face financial ruin as fast as conditions will admit without disturbing our mar-

REPUBLICANISM

Editor Francis of the Napa Register, one of the stalwart Republicans of that part of the state, has been criticised by one of his contemporaries for having "identified himself with the Lincoln Roosevelt sideshow." This is his reply to the criticism and it is commended to the thoughtful consideration of Republicans in this part of the state:

"In your designation you have omitted the word Republican after 'Lincoln-Roosevelt.' Read that word in where it belongs and then call it 'sideshow,' or no show, or just what you like.

"You know what has been said a thousand times and been said truly, that the railroad corporation as a political factor 'has no soul to save and no body to be burned.' It has no principle at stake, is loyal to no party, cares little whose heads are hurt or whose hearts are broken, in its fight for supremacy. It has always commanded the money and the men needed to do its will. It put Estee in the discard for Stoneman in 1882; gave Hartson encouragement, then turned him down in 1886, and had Estee counted out for Jim Budd in 1894.

"There have been times when a turn in the road seemed near, but it failed to become visible to the naked eye until the year of our Lord 1910 and the direct primary arrived and the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican-League suggested a standard-bearer who would fearlessly lead to cleaner and better conditions.

"Our first vote for Lincoln, our last for Taft, and with our next we are ready to help nominate a man after Roosevelt's heart, for Governor of California, Hiram W. Johnson by name. The issue is plain as Mr. Johnson states it. No one can misunderstand the man or his mission. He is a native son, a thoroughbred Republican and is in this fight to break the blighting power of the Espee political machine.

"Call us 'mugwump' if it affords you any pleasure, an actor in a political sideshow if you think it adds any brilliancy to your sentences, but don't be surprised if the ballots due to fall in August cover you and your belittling talk with confusion."

That is a very lucid and strong defence of the Republicanism of those who are supporting Johnson for Governor; and the "sideshow" at which some of the so-called "regulars" are sneering may prove to be the whole thing when the ballots are counted after the primary. Johnson is the most capable man and the best Republican of any of the candidates and it looks now as if the people are coming to recognize that fact.—Riverside Press.

Unsuccessful Angling of
"Machine" for Labor Vote

BY FRANKLIN HICHBORN.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—The different methods adopted by the partisans of the several candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination to win the "labor politicians" support for their particular candidate is characteristic of conditions in San Francisco and of the campaign.

Since the chief of the labor politicians, P. H. McCarthy, took office as mayor, San Francisco has enjoyed all the vicissitudes of the Paris of America experiment. Our Paris of America has kept things humming.

But humming for whom?

For the dive-keeper, the groggery-keeper.

But legitimate business has suffered. Not since the great fire has business been so dull with the restaurant keeper, the hotel keeper, the legitimate saloon keeper, and the merchant.

A reaction against the conditions which have brought only notoriety and loss upon the city was sure to set in, and it has set in.

Property owners whose holdings were included in the new tenderloin district have made protest to the Board of Police Commissioners, and the commissioners have been compelled to heed the protest.

The administration has been compelled to take action in suppressing pocket picking, hold-ups, gambling. The chief of police, Mayor McCarthy's own selection, has "been on the carpet," and given one more chance to make good.

And to force home upon the administration the fact that San Francisco shall not be converted into a "Paris of decadence and degeneracy," two great demonstrations are to be held early in May.

But this revolt against the wide open town of the mis-called "labor administration" has not been brought about by a united San Francisco press laboring for decency. With two exceptions, "The Bulletin" and "The News," the local daily press were, until the storm broke, discreetly silent on the inability of the administration to hold down the tenderloin.

And the one principal reason for this strange silence has been, the fight for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

The prize for which the silent ones have contended has been the support of the local labor union politicians. No egg dancer ever minced her (or his) way through an egg-bordered maze with greater care than the local papers have avoided the union labor political toes.

The Call, for example, is for Charles Curry for governor, and hopes to see the labor union political strength go to Curry. Until the chief of police was called to the carpet, The Call, apparently, could discover no bad gamblers, in San Francisco. Indeed, The Call is even now deliberately misrepresenting and belittling The Bulletin's efforts to compel a cleaning up.

The Chronicle is for Anderson, and has hopes that the labor union politicians—who, by the way, labor very little or not at all—will be able to herd those who do labor to the primary polls to vote for Anderson. The Chronicle is most careful about offending those same labor union politicians.

On the other hand, the men who are supporting the candidacy of Hiram Johnson are open in their denunciation of the undesirable conditions. The labor union politicians may grit their teeth and squeal like pigs in a fence, but the criticism goes right on.

The question naturally arises, with which side is the laboring element in sympathy; the side that stands for the wide open town of the character which we have been enjoying, or with the side that openly condemns such conditions?

There have of late been many indications that the working people of this city have awoke to the fact that the labor union politicians in power either cannot or will not look out for the best interests of labor, and are to be carefully distinguished from labor union leaders.

For example—
Laboring people live in rented houses, flats, etc. Since the present administration came into power, an ordinance has been adopted materially cutting down the yard space and the air space of buildings of the character of those which the laboring people rent. This is fine for the land owner, but cruelly hard on the renter.

Again, the working people of San Francisco are much concerned about breaking the street car monopoly enjoyed by the United Railroads. Nevertheless, the Public Utilities Committee of the Board of Supervisors, on March 9, passed favorably upon resolutions which would have given the United Railroads absolute monopoly of lower Market street, the strategic point, by the way, in local traction.

"It takes a great deal of moral courage," asserted Supervisor Robert J. Loughery at the time, "to give a corporation a fair deal."

"Yes," thundered back Secretary Gallagher of the Labor Council, who was present; "and it takes a great deal more moral courage to take a corporation by the neck and say that it must give the people a square deal."

Loughery was elected on the Labor Union ticket. Gallagher was one of the strongest supporters of that ticket.

Incidentally, it may be said that the resolution favorably passed upon by the Public Utilities Committee on March 9, met with such universal protest that it has never been acted upon by the supervisors. Instead, the petition which would have turned lower Market street over to the United Railroads has been rejected by the board. But the incident has had its effect in weakening the position of the labor union politicians.

Or, again: It is admitted on all sides that the uptown dives, which are flourishing under the new regulations of the McCarthy Board of Police Commissioners, are mere pitfalls for the daughters and sons of those who labor. Gradually the fact is dawning upon those who earn their living that organized labor has nothing in common with the uptown dive-keepers; that the uptown dive-keepers prey upon the workmen who organize labor unions; prey upon them with the cruelty of a vampire.

And this awakening is not helping the labor union politicians, whom the votes of the labor union men of this city have elevated to power. Nevertheless, the "machine" comfortably counts upon the labor union politicians to deliver the vote of organized labor to any candidate whom they may select.

Hence the care and consideration with which the labor union politicians, and the labor union politicians' administration are being treated by The Call and The Chronicle.

The writer is of the opinion, however, that the tide has set in against the labor union politicians of this city, and is making strong for the labor union leaders of the type of Walter MacArthur. These leaders are decidedly opposed to the policies of the McCarthy administration. The Republicans among them are working for the nomination of Hiram W. Johnson.

They are working for Hiram W. Johnson because he stands for the "square deal," as Roosevelt puts it. And the "square deal" involves the smashing of the "machine."

The working people of San Francisco are keenly alive to this issue. There will be no "delivery of their vote" to a machine-named candidate this year.

Society

And yesterday was May Day in this Southland! A fresh, fair day with a tinge of coolness and the fragrance of a thousand roses in the air. Pansies lifted their modest heads and everywhere were roses. The birds sang and fleecy clouds drifted across the heavens, and everywhere were roses. A day of roses, a day of loveliness, a May Day in Southern California.

Baby Show Invitation

Here is an invitation for YOU to the Fourth Annual Baby Show that the ladies of the Congregational church will give on next Saturday, May 7, at Spurgeon's Hall, for the benefit of the pipe organ fund:

"To the sweetest party of all the year,

On the seventh of May, you are asked, my dear,

'Tis at Spurgeon's Hall on a Saturday And those under ten will have naught to pay.

There'll be baby clothes, candy, ice cream, you know,

And a programme, too, at the baby show."

More Courtesies for Miss Dunning

The Philathea Class of the Methodist church, South, formed a merry party of picnickers Saturday afternoon at Birch Park.

The picnic was held in honor of Miss Ora Dunning, one of the most active members of the class, who has departed for her home in Madisonville, Ohio.

Various games were played, and the girls had a good time generally, until the time came for lunch, when they had a better time by spreading their many eatables on the lawn. They were agreeably surprised by the sudden appearance of one of the Baraca boys, with a treat of ice cream.

The girls wrote letters for Miss Dunning to read on her homeward journey.

Miss Lillie Chaffee entertained a number of her young friends at supper Sunday evening, in honor of her friend, Miss Dunning.

The young people enjoying the supper were: The honoree, Miss

Dunning, the hostess, Miss Chaffee; Misses Melton, Phillips, Blodgett, Messrs. Jay Brooks, Chas. Martin, John Simmons, Emmett Hayes, Neal Chaffee.

The farewell reception held for Miss Dunning Friday evening was well attended.

An interesting program was rendered, after which games were played. Ice cream and cake were served. Tributes were given to Miss Dunning by various Leaguers, to which she charmingly responded.

Ebell Elects Officers

The annual election of officers of the Ebell Club was held last Saturday afternoon and the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. E. M. Nealley; first vice-president, Mrs. M. E. Bowes; second vice-president, Mrs. Wm. Smart; recording secretary, Mrs. H. T. Rutherford; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John Swanner; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Blee; curator, Mrs. W. L. Tubbs. The following were named as directors: Mrs. Bibber of Orange; Mesdames J. P. Baumgartner, Andrew Getty, E. B. Norman, J. L. Dryer, E. B. Smith of Santa Ana.

In a communication, the faculty of the High School expressed appreciation of the invitation extended them for the recital given by Madam Le Grand Reed, March 25.

The Ebell decided to endorse the petitions which the Woman's Parliament of Southern California lately addressed to the city council in regard to public playground for children.

A play, "Cupid at Vassar," will be given the latter part of this month, for the purpose of adding to the clubhouse fund. Ernest Phillips Crossier has been secured as director.

The first part of the afternoon was spent in hearing reports from the delegates who attended the Federation of Clubs at Santa Barbara and the Woman's Parliament in Santa Ana. In one of these reports it was mentioned that Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz was recently appointed deputy district attorney of Los Angeles, largely through the efforts of the various women's organizations of California.

The Ebell will present a petition to the board of supervisors asking them to provide a home for dependent and delinquent children.

For the Templetons

Prof. and Mrs. J. C. Templeton left yesterday afternoon for Palo Alto, after a week's stay in Southern California. Prof. Templeton attended the school superintendents' convention at Riverside, lasting through five days, while Mrs. Templeton was a guest of friends in Santa Ana. He returned here Friday afternoon from Riverside, and on Friday evening a reception at the E. E. Keech home was tendered the former Santa Ana educator and his wife. Scores of former friends were guests during the evening, glad to renew old acquaintance with Prof. and Mrs. Templeton.

Mr. and Mrs. Keech and their guests were assisted in receiving by Miss Lucy Boyle and the Misses Keech. Fruitade and punch were served during the evening.

Prof. Templeton, who was for several years at the head of the city schools of Santa Ana, left here to go to Carson City, Nev., where he held a similar position. He is now superintendent of city schools at Palo Alto.

Parliamentary Section

The Parliamentary Section of the Ebell will meet on Thursday next, May 5, at the home of Mrs. I. D. Mills, with Mrs. A. J. Lawton as leader. She requests that the members study elections and committees for that day.

DEATH OF FORMER SANTA ANA WOMAN

News has been received of the death on last Friday evening of Mrs. Charles Smith in a Bakersfield hospital, of paralysis of the heart. Mrs. Smith was formerly a resident of Garden Grove and later of Santa Ana, and her daughters, Eva and Allie Smith will be remembered as graduates of the Orange County Business College and as employees in various business establishments in the city. Eva Smith is now married, but Miss Eva was with her mother at the time of her death.

That Baby Show

—Yes, that Baby Show will be next Saturday, May 7, at Spurgeon's Hall. All the babies are going to be there. A program by the little folks at 2:30 p.m., including songs, drills, weaving of the May Pole and crowning of the sweet little May Queen. Admission to the afternoon program, ten cents.

Afterwards the ladies in the various booths will be glad to show and sell their wares. There will be delicious home-made candy, baby clothes, sweet and dainty, and pretty things for mamma in the mothers' booth; last but not least, the ice cream tables, where ice cream and cake will be served for fifteen cents.

In the evening will be a complete change of program. Young ladies of Santa Ana with musical talent will give the charming cantata, "The Gypsy Girl," under the leadership of Mrs. Angus Crookshank. The girls will all be in costume, and there will be a fortune teller and Gypsy queens. Admission to this charming evening entertainment will be twenty-five cents. Do not miss it. Everyone is invited to both of these programs, the proceeds to go to the pipe organ fund of the Congregational church.

WHY DOES TIME FLY IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Nearly every person one meets, whether old or young, rich or poor, has this same remark to offer: "Why does the time go so fast here?"

Scarcely does one week seem well begun until another, loaded down with all sorts of occupation for mind and muscle, comes crowding and pushing itself into our way.

Today we are attracted by the playful pranks of some child's invention—perhaps the next time we shall see them they will have outgrown that spirit of childhood and have become identified with the grown-ups. Everything here shows progressiveness, in fact nothing moves along slowly in Southern California. But besides our progressiveness there predominates another spirit of as vital importance—the spirit of happiness and good cheer.

Thus has it been revealed to us that only to those whose selfish natures have made them repulsive and unhappy does time drag and seem oppressive. But thanks to kind providence, those people are scarce here.

Nowhere on earth is there greater reason for happiness than right here where the conditions all harmonize with our glorious climate and glorious people. While a warm and tender feeling shall ever exist in my heart for the state of my nativity, still there are memories of dull, moping hours spent in sickness and ill health when ambition was away below par and many other conditions were correspondingly unpleasant.

So it is right and just for all who have profited by these rare influences of Southern California to "rejoice and feel exceeding glad." Let the time speed along as it will we shall not lament—we shall not grow old.

100 DAYS HAVE AWAITED HER

was convinced that she was again selling liquor. The woman said she would sell none.

From time to time, intimations have been received by the officers that Mrs. Measor was again breaking the law.

Saturday night it was learned that a man who works on her place that evening had taken a quantity of liquor to the place.

Acting on this information after consultation with the district attorney's office, Constable Smithwick went to the house on the Measor ranch at Delhi.

There were several men in the house. They had been drinking beer, and there were unopened bottles in evidence. Some of the men put up a talk to the effect that they had brought the beer in with them and that Mrs. Measor was going to cook a meal for them.

The information brought in was quite convincing to the mind of the Justice of the Peace, and he concluded that there was no question but what the condition under which he had withheld the commitment had been flagrantly violated by Mrs. Measor.

The withholding of a commitment is a legal procedure, and stands in a court as any unsatisfied judgment. It can be enforced at any time, according to the order of the justice or judge, for any reason whatever. It differs from a suspended sentence. In this case, the justice had promised to withhold the commitment on the certain specific condition that Mrs. Measor sell no more liquor, and Justice Smithwick is fully satisfied that Mrs. Measor has been selling liquor.

It is possible that the woman may endeavor to escape punishment by habeas corpus proceedings, but the chances all are that habeas corpus proceedings will fail.

Justice Smithwick this afternoon turned the commitment over to Sheriff Lacy's office.

Among those found at Mrs. Measor's house last night was a man named Wilson who was arrested two years ago for selling liquor on the San Joaquin.

CIRCUS DAY WILL OPEN WITH PARADE

Circus day will open in Santa Ana tomorrow with the grand free street parade by Campbell Brothers Shows at 10 a. m. sharp, and will continue to amuse with the two big performances at 2 and 8 p. m. in the big water-proof tents.

One of the many things of special interest to the patrons of a circus is the menagerie. Campbell Brothers have expended a small fortune in this department, that the lovers of natural history, both old and young, may find something to instruct and amuse. Chief among their many features, is a genuine Tartary Yak, said to be the finest specimen of its kind; only one other of its kind on exhibition in the United States.

The menagerie of Campbell Brothers Great Consolidated Shows afford an opportunity for a close study of "Zoology," for it is the finest selection and collection of rare wild animals in existence; it is offered as a living encyclopedia of natural history.

—The Fraternal Brotherhood will give a dance Friday evening at their hall, to which the public is invited. Balize orchestra will play. Admission 50 cents.

Two might be able to live as cheaply as one—if there were no bargain sales.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The first sweet corn that has made its appearance on the local market this season was reported from Imperial Valley yesterday morning. The corn was of good size and sold at the high price of $1 per dozen ears. There was a good call for Cuban egg plant, which brings 25 cents a pound right along. Red cabbage is another fancy vegetable on the market. It arrives from the north and sells ordinarily at 35 cents a pound. Three cars of Mexican tomatoes have been received in the past few days by a single firm and at least two other cars have arrived in the same time which readily explains the low price on the vegetable. Some stock is selling as low as $1.50 a crate. At this figure there is little profit after the cost of exporting these to Mexico and then importing them back with the added duty on the tomatoes of 1/2 cent a pound. This brings the cost above production on tomatoes to $1.50 a car.

There were no changes in any of the staples and sales were fair. Egg receipts were 410 cases. Local case count were the best sellers.

Butter arrivals totaled 36,057 lbs. Creamery extra and cooking stock sold better than others. Some eastern arrivals are expected within a very short time.

Cheese arrivals were 2476 pounds. The call for cheese was practically limited to Eastern varieties. No changes in quotations on any variety were reported.

Instead of growing smaller, potato arrivals seem to be on the increase. Yesterday 4895 sacks or about 17 cars of potatoes were landed in Los Angeles, among them considerable Idaho and some Nevada stock. This does not increase the value of spuds already on hand. No change in new spuds has been recorded in two days. Onion arrivals were very light and the demand normal. Bean receipts were 350 sacks. Pinks and Lady Washingtons were the chief offerings of the afternoon.

Blackberries were down to 5 and 6 cents a basket. Strawberries sold as low as 50 cents a crate on packed stock. Loose berries, long stems sold at 7 to 10 cents a basket. Raspberries of good quality remained at 10 cents a basket.

Cherry receipts were another 100 boxes. Prices on the fruit were steady. It is expected that there will be a very abrupt drop on Monday or Tuesday morning of the coming week when receipts will increase largely.

The demand for fish were the best of the week and as a result the market was better cleaned up than it has been at any time in the past ten days. Even at that there is still a big surplus and receipts are so heavy that it will be impossible to keep some of the fish from going to the dump.

NEW CHRISTIAN CHURCH WAS DEDICATED YESTERDAY

Rev. A. C. Smither Preaches Dedictory
Sermon—$16,000 Pledged—Fine
Program for Services

The dedicatory services of the new First Christian church, the second beautiful church to be dedicated in Santa Ana within the last two weeks, took place yesterday forenoon with auxiliary services in the afternoon and evening. Throngs of people wended their way to the beautiful building on Broadway and Sixth streets, and long before the beginning of the service the seating capacity of the house was exhausted. The scene was an impressive one. The soft light from the beautiful stained windows fell on a mass of people, many of whom were vitally interested in the edifice about to be consecrated to religious service. They had given of devotion, time, money to the achievement of the splendid edifice and were now publicly presenting it to the Lord.

In the choir loft above and back of the pulpit and the rostrum was a chorus choir of more than twenty singers, with A. C. Scholes directing and Miss Carrie Seaton at the organ. Besides leading the hymns, the Doxology, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" and "I Love to Tell the Story," the choir rendered an anthem "Great is the Lord." Mr. Evans of Los Angeles sang "Only Tired," and Miss Seaton played "O For the Wings of a Dove" as an offertory. The dedicatory prayer was given by Rev. A. F. Roadhouse, pastor of the church, and was marked by affecting references to former pastors, notably Rev. H. D. Connell, and to A. H. Thomas and F. M. Gist, all of whom have passed away but whose efforts for the upbuilding of this church are still green in the memories of all.

The dedicatory sermon was given by Rev. A. C. Smither of Los Angeles First Christian church, of which he has been pastor for more than twenty years and who is affectionately referred to by the Christian denomination as "the Bishop of Southern California." Mr. Smither tendered his congratulations on the completion of the church and then presented a beautiful talk on the theme of the "Church as the Bride of the Lamb." He demanded of the church, in view of such a revelation, purity, devotion, love. He placed before the people a high ideal, and outlined the necessity for whiteness of life, not only in woman, but in man as well. His sermon was one well calculated to impress on his hearers the importance of the occasion and of the claims of the church.

Following the splendid sermon, Rev. Smither demonstrated his superlative skill as a debt raiser. He placed the financial situation squarely before the congregation and with appeal, spiced with wit that sparkled as easily at the expense of the deacons as it did at generalities, succeeded in having the handsome sum of $16,000 pledged in a very short space of time. This leaves but a small indebtedness, comparatively, and was an evidence of the generous loyalty of the church members and their friends.

Afternoon Service

Rev. Smither also spoke in the afternoon service at 3 o'clock, when greetings were given by local pastors including Rev. J. A. Stevenson, C. H. Secombe, W. L. C. Samson, J. H. Garnett, H. E. Murkett and R. C. Douglas, of Santa Ana, and Rev. C. C. Bentley of Orange.

These addresses were interspersed by music rendered by a ladies' quartet, a male quartet and a solo from Mr. Evans. All of these singers came from Los Angeles and are members of Mr. Scholes' choir in that city. Other musical numbers were the anthems "I Will Extol Thee," and "Near My God to Thee," a solo "Fear Not, O Israel" by Mrs. Scholes, a hymn "I Will Sing the Wondrous Story" and a postlude by Miss Seaton.

Evening Service

The house was again filled to its capacity in the evening when it was expected that Rev. R. P. Shepherd would address the congregation, but owing to a sudden call east, Rev. Shepherd was not present. His place was most acceptably filled by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Roadhouse, who gave an interesting resume of the history and belief of the Christian church. The musical program included solos by Miss Marrs and A. C. Scholes, a number by a male quartet, the hymns "Joy to the World" and "Just as I Am," besides the offertory and postlude on the reed-pipe organ.

Coming Reception

On next Wednesday there will be a reception at the church for the people of Santa Ana and all are cordially invited to be present and inspect the new church. Music and light refreshments will contribute to the pleasure of the event.

The church dedicated yesterday is with the lot, on which it is erected, valued at $21,000, its actual cost. It contains, besides the main and Sunday school auditoriums, 14 class rooms, choir room, baptistry room, two robing rooms, dining room, kitchen and ladies parlor. The building was begun last July and was put up by D. Funk, contractor. The church people unite in praising Mr. Funk's conscientious and thorough work and are more than pleased with the result.

Handsome pews and other required equipment make the church complete. A mellow toned organ that is a combination of reeds and pipes, makes a most acceptable substitute for the pipe organ that will likely come in the course of time. Mrs. Wilson and Miss Seaton are the church organists. A large measure of the success achieved in the securing of the new church, which is a splendid addition to the church architecture of Santa Ana, is due to the indefatigable energy of the pastor, Rev. A. F. Roadhouse, who came just before the beginning of the building. He entered completely into the plans of his people and has given faithful support to their effort.

INVITED TO APHIS FEAST

Horticultural Commissioner Receives Shipment of 10,000 Lady-birds

County Horticultural Commissioner R. K. Bishop has 10,000 lady-birds to whom he is going to quote: "Lady-bird, lady-bird, fly away home." The lady-birds are to be given a chance to make homes right close to woolly aphis on apple trees and green aphis on walnut trees.

Bishop received the lady-birds this morning from the state insectary at Sacramento. The particular kind of lady-bird is hippidamia convergens. She is red-backed with twelve black spots for adornment. The state insectary has raised a ton of these insects, and has shipped great quantities of them to Imperial to make a fight on the melon aphids.

Bishop asked for a collection that he might distribute them among woolly aphis to see if in this climate this red-backed bird will not decide to turn to and take her meals at the table of the pests. The commissioner will watch the young ladies carefully and with interest, and hopes the experiment will prove successful.

REPORTS TO BOARD BRIDGE IS UNSAFE

County Surveyor Schenck Declares West Chapman Structure Needs Repairs

A written report to the Board of Supervisors on the condition of the bridge on West Chapman street across the Santa Ana river in West Orange was filed this morning by County Surveyor Schenck. The county surveyor declares that the bridge is unsafe and in need of repairs. He specifies the defects as follows:

1. The footings of all the trusses are decayed, are crushing and are not safe.
2. The under timbers on which the trusses are supported are badly decayed.
3. The piers are too close together for the proper support of the bridge, and timbers spliced are settling.
4. The rods that tie the bridge together are broken in places, causing the bridge to spread.
5. The trusses are out of line and are likely to fall on to the bridge at any time.

YESTERDAY'S GAME 1 TO 0

Brilliant Pitching Marked Battle Between Locals and Mairers' Team

(By Sunny Jim)

Santa Ana yesterday took the game from the Mair club by the score of 1 to 0. This was the greatest pitcher's battle seen on the home diamond for over a year. Tompkins, a south paw, was on the mound for the visitors and it was only on a wild throw that the one lone tally was scored. Stone pitched the first four and his work was the finest ever seen on the home grounds. Only 13 men faced him and nine were unable to even touch the ball. One scratch hit that Nalle should have fielded in plenty of time was the only bingle secured off him. Hinrichs then replaced Stone and the big celery herder allowed but three scattered hits and secured six strikeouts.

Redondo having won leaves the locals and the beach town tie for first place.

Both teams played brilliantly in the field. Ribinson's work in the outfield being the feature. McCormicks will play next Sunday.

Wednesday, May 4, skirts made free. Crookshank-Beatty Co.
